

ENDS 3: Citizenship

January 13, 2016

Students will live as responsible citizens.

Interpretation:

- We interpret “students” to mean each student in our pre-K-12 system.
- We interpret “live as responsible citizens” to mean that current students:
 1. Will conduct themselves in a manner that reflects community values and aligns with the behavior expectations outlined in state law and District and school behavior policies; and
 2. Demonstrate knowledge, application, and proficiency in their studies of American citizenship and cultural, global, and environmental awareness in classes that have standard curricula that specifically align with this End.

Reasonable progress: We have confidence that students are meeting the targets of Ends 3 when they participate in our PreK-12 educational program and show successful adherence to all behavior expectations and apply learning from required citizenship courses. Therefore, the monitoring report will show students are living as responsible citizens and are conducting themselves in a manner that reflects community values, ethical principles and is in line with state and district behavior policies and expectations. In addition, students will demonstrate environmental awareness and their contributions towards appropriate stewardship.

Students will:

3.1 understand and respect the freedoms, rights and responsibilities of being an American citizen and participating in a representative democracy at the local, state and national levels;

- We interpret “understand and respect” to mean knowledge of and appreciation for.
- We interpret “freedoms, rights, and responsibilities of being an American citizen” to mean the ideals and rules as defined in the Constitution, state law, district policy, and student handbook.
- We interpret “participate in a representative democracy” to mean to engage in activities that reflect the rules and norms of American citizenship.

Evidence:

- Alignment: Specific EALRs/GLEs are embedded in the Social Studies scope and sequence that align with E-3.1, 3.3; Link - OSPI Social Studies Learning Standards
- Requirements: Students must meet Social Studies requirements at the elementary, middle and high school levels.
- Proficiency: Graduation rate- Percentage of students (at minimum) who have successfully met these Social Studies requirements.
- Fidelity: Students must demonstrate knowledge, application, and proficiency in order to pass a Social Studies class; we supervise teachers to ensure fidelity.

3.2 understand and apply ethical principles in all aspects of life;

- We interpret “understand and apply” to mean acquiring knowledge and demonstrating and transferring this knowledge.
- We interpret “ethical principles” to mean right and wrong as defined in the Constitution, state law, district policy, and student handbook.
- We interpret “all aspects of life” to mean interactions in the school, home, and both local and global communities.

Evidence:

- Alignment: Students must meet specific behavior expectations that align with E 3.2. All student behavior expectations are in the student handbooks. ISD Student Handbooks are currently under redesign and will available to the public within the next few weeks prior to registration for the 2016-17 school year.
- Requirement: All students are exposed to and instructed on the behavior policies of each school with student and parent sign-off.
- Proficiency: Graduation rate- Percentage of students demonstrating successful adherence to these behavioral expectations.
- Fidelity: Principals are credentialed and receive annual training regarding student discipline.
- Application: HYS – “Feeling Safe” and “Skipping School”
- Application: Truancy Rates (Skyward)
- Application: Discipline Rates—District-wide and any concerning areas, in particular weapons incidents, cheating incidents and bullying.

3.5 utilize natural resources in an efficient, sustainable way, ensuring the rights of future generations to enjoy a clean and resourceful planet;

- We interpret “utilize” to mean reduce, reuse, and recycle.
- We interpret “natural resources” to mean materials occurring in nature.
- We interpret “efficient” to mean responsible.
- We interpret “sustainable” to mean to last or continue over time.

Evidence:

- Alignment: Specific EALRs are embedded in the Social Studies and Science scope and sequence that align with E-3.5.
- Requirements: Students must meet Social Studies and Science requirements at elementary, middle, and high school levels.
- Proficiency: Graduation rate - Percentage of students (at minimum) who have successfully met Social Studies and Science requirements.
- Fidelity: Students must demonstrate knowledge, application, and proficiency in order to pass a Social Studies or Science class; we supervise teachers to ensure fidelity.
- Application: Data on district wide and building conservation efforts (refuse and recycling).
- Application: Students are exposed to KC surface Water Management Education Program.

E-3.5, 3.6

Resource Conservation Program Summary

The Resource Conservation Program started in September of 2001 to provide ongoing management of energy, water, waste reduction, recycling and collection of food scraps for composting to minimize consumption of district resources and utility costs. Sustaining an effective resource conservation program over time requires continuous monitoring of all district facilities and providing conservation education to our students and staff.

Resource Conservation Report, Chris Bruno, December 2015

3.6 recognize how their personal and collective actions impact the environment.

- We interpret “recognize” to mean to acknowledge and appreciate.
- We interpret “personal actions” to mean individual behaviors resulting in good and/or bad consequences.
- We interpret “collective actions” to mean group behaviors resulting in good and/or bad consequences.
- We interpret “impact the environment” to mean effect on our world.

Interdistrict Student Council Projects:

Major assignments/activities IDSC participated in last year.

- KingCo Interhigh for New Officers
 - Attended a conference at Bellevue High School led by Phil Boyte to develop their leadership skills and brainstorm ways to improve the effectiveness of ASB in their buildings
- Planning and Leading the KingCo Sportsmanship Interhigh
 - Students organized the KingCo Sportsmanship Interhigh in November
 - Students met multiple times to come up with a variety of activities focused on developing good sportsmanship between the schools in the KingCo League
 - Over 200 students attended the conference and IDSC students led the breakout sessions
 - Breakout sessions involved activities and discussions related to game attendance, unifying the student body through school spirit, the role of social media, interactions between schools, cheers, and working with their schools to create an action plan for promoting positive sportsmanship at their school
- Creating a new role for IDSC members in the 2014-2015 School Year
 - Evaluated the current role of the IDSC

- Worked to create new roles and responsibilities for IDSC moving forward
 - Determined Executive Board members to serve as board representatives
 - Created a new position called the Social Action Ambassador for students at each school. Helped create description and application for new Social Action Ambassador Board

Capacity Building

- Board work around tolerance of differences definitions.
- Possible Common Assessment data from civics courses from the Skyline 2015-16 school year.

Limitation in Data Collection

- Some data is collected only every two years; e.g., Post-Graduate Survey and Healthy Youth Survey
- OSPI reports are sometimes one or more years behind.
- Disaggregated data is not always available using OSPI data, which is the best data currently available for some topics.
